

Mark Seider, Board of Directors

Some people retire from “work” to make time for leisure activities or to share their talents with their church or favorite charity. Mark Seider didn’t wait until his recent retirement as a director of Seider Heating and Cooling to begin his charity work.

His long list of generous public service includes being an elected alderman for a city of thirty thousand citizens, a volunteer at his church and notably with the Haitian Lutheran Mission Society. He has completed six mission trips to Haiti and was there when an earthquake struck that poor nation.

Following his graduation from Milwaukee Lutheran High School and then Valparaiso University in 1968 Mark served in the United States Army from 1968 to 1970. If asked he might share with you a story or two about being far from home and maybe a little homesick at the holidays.

He married his bride, Ruth, in 1973 and is always the proud dad of Amy and Nicholas.
